RMSD Update

Dr. Bickert
Superintendent

Right Now! We have some very positive news to share. The New Mexico Public Education Department (NMPED) just released 2021 cohort graduation rate information for the state. While the state's overall graduation rate remained flat at 76.8%, our graduation rate increased 5.6% from 84.8% to 90.4%! Congratulations to all of Warrior Nation! Check our social media pages for more details and all the state's graduation data at: <https://webnew.ped.state.nm.us/bureaus/accountability/graduation/>

Graduating from high school is a major life accomplishment that often comes with facing trials and tribulations along the way. Overcoming obstacles and bouncing back from setbacks defines being "resilient," which just happens to be our Social Emotional Learning (SEL) word of the month for March. The past two years have been challenging for all of us and continuing to be resilient will help as we continue the process of returning to "normal."

Sending "thank yous" out to the Board of Education for approving the recommendation of the English Language Arts/Spanish Language Arts (K – 8) Curriculum Adoption Committee and to all the teachers and staff who participated in the review and piloting of the materials. Have a safe, wonderful weekend! Dr. B.
